

Table of Contents

Preface	iii
Introduction	iii
Terminology	iv
What's In a Name?	iv
Patient or Client?	iv
Him or Her?	iv
Gender Neutral Pronouns	iv
How to Use this Book	v
Pictograph Glossary	v
Special Features of the Digital Edition	v
Free Downloadable Workbook	v
Continuing Education Credits	vi
Teacher Resources	vi
About the Authors	vii
Contributing Authors	viii
Acknowledgments	x
1. Ethical Foundations	1
The Therapeutic Relationship	2
Client-Centeredness	3
Safety	3
Privacy	3
Clear Structure	4
Power Differential	4
Complications of Power Differentials	6
Misuse of Power in Attempts to Help	6
Misuse of Power for Personal Gain	6
Disempowerment of Clients	6
Transference and Countertransference	8
Transference	8
Countertransference	8
Managing Transference and Countertransference	10
The Body as a Storehouse for Emotions and Past Experiences	11
Universal Ethical Principles	11
Justice	11
Honesty	11
Reverence for Life	12
Adherence to Law	12
Sources of Ethical Guidance	12
Ethical Codes and Regulations	12
Laws	12
Professional Codes of Ethics	13
Organizational Policies and Procedures	14
		Personal Ethics and Self-Accountability	15
		Morals, Values, and Principles	15
		Core Values	16
		Self-Accountability	16
		Ethical Congruence Checklist	17
		Resolving Ethical Dilemmas	19
		The Six-Step Resolution Model	21
		Conclusion	23
2. Boundaries	25
What Are Boundaries?	27
Types of Boundaries	28
The Physical Boundary	28
The Emotional Boundary	28
The Intellectual Boundary	28
The Sexual Boundary	29
The Energetic Boundary	29
How Boundaries Develop	30
The Family	31
Privacy	31
Physical Contact	31
Emotional Connection and Expression	31
Intellectual Expression	32
Sexual Attitudes	32
Sensitivity	32
The Culture at Large	32
Schools	32
Media	33
Religion	33
Voluntary Social Groups	33
Boundary Models	34
Personal Boundaries	34
Permeable	35
Semi-permeable	35
Rigid	35
Interactive Boundaries	36
Meeting at the Boundary	36
Boundary Crossing or Violation	36
Distance from the Boundary	36
Boundary Crossings and Violations	39
Limitations of Terminology	40
What Constitutes Boundary Crossings	40
Insensitive Use of Pronouns	40
Inappropriate Touch	41
Careless or Uninvited Words	42

Sexual Misconduct	43	Defense Mechanisms	83
Excessively Permeable Boundaries	44	Projection	84
Client Reluctance to Personal Disclosure	45	Repression	84
Inappropriate Self-Disclosure	45	Denial	85
Tardiness	46	Armoring	85
Inappropriate Use of Social Media	47	Deflection	85
Why Boundary Crossings Occur	47	Resistance	85
Difficulties in Identifying Boundary Crossings	48	Suppression	85
Steps to Avoid Boundary Crossings and Violations	49	Power Differentials	86
Increase Empathy	50	Challenging Topics of Conversation	86
Manage Energetic Boundaries	50	Emotional Intelligence	87
Identify Clients' Behavioral Cues	50	Strong Emotions	87
Ask Questions	50	Sadness	88
Teach Boundary Identification and Establishment	51	Fear and Anxiety	88
Encourage Clients to Speak Up	52	Annoyance and Anger	90
Establish, Maintain, and Change Boundaries	54	Boundaries	91
Location of Service	55	Communicating Respect for Client Boundaries	91
Interpersonal Space	55	Treat the Client as a Person, Not an Object	91
Money	55	Build Rapport	92
Appearance	55	Admit Your Mistakes	92
Self-Disclosure	55	Foster Appropriate Self-Disclosure	92
Language	56	Encourage the Client to Speak Up	94
Touch	56	Communicating About Your Boundaries	94
Time	56	Be Proactive	94
Conclusion	56	Be Assertive	95
3. Dual and Sequential Relationships	57	Be Consistent	96
What Are Dual Relationships?	58	Feedback	97
A Historical Perspective	59	Manage Your Negative Feelings	97
The Range of Dual Relationships	60	Clarify Your Feelings	98
Socializing	60	Clarify Your Goal	98
Group Affiliation	60	Next Steps	98
Friendship	61	Communications Beyond the Treatment Room	99
Family	61	Ambiguity	99
Financial Arrangements	61	Privacy	99
Social Media	62	Professionalism	100
Dating	62	Conclusion	102
Sex	62	5. Communication Techniques and Strategies	103
Students	62	Giving and Receiving Feedback	104
The Benefits of Dual Relationships	63	Giving Feedback	104
The Risks of Dual Relationships	64	Step 1: Set a Goal	104
Evaluating the Potential Risks	65	Step 2: Select Your Facts	104
What is the Intimacy Level?	66	Step 3: Deliver the Feedback	106
What Is the Impact of the Power Differential?	66	Receiving Feedback	108
To What Extent Does Mutual and Equal Consent Exist?	66	Reflecting	110
Who Is Accountable for What in the Relationship?	67	Beyond Reflection: Clarifying Unspoken Concerns	111
What Is the Relative Maturity Level?	67	Inviting Input	112
How is the Therapeutic Relationship Affected?	67	Interactive Speaking	112
What Are the Consequences of Non-Participation?	67	Informed Consent Discussions	113
Sequential Relationships	69	Responding to Body Language	114
Dating Former Clients	69	Educating	117
What's at Stake?	69	Learning Preferences	117
Complicating Factors	70	The Assertion Sequence	118
Guidelines for Navigating Romantic Relationships	71	Assertion Sequence Stage I: Agreement Discussion	119
Minimizing Concerns	73	Step 1: What	119
Seek Supervision	74	Step 2: Why	119
The Special Case of Schools	76	Step 3: Consequences	119
Conclusion	78	Step 4: Obstacles	120
4. Dynamics of Effective Communication	79	Step 5: Recap	120
Communication Barriers	80	Special Cases: After-the-Fact Agreement Discussions	120
Noise	80	Assertion Sequence Stage II: Follow-Up	121
The Ambiguity of Language	81	Step 1: Desirable Behavior Reinforcement	121
Reducing Noise	83	Step 2: Ongoing Reminders	121

Step 3: Broken Agreement Discussion	121	Key Factor Two: Educational Training	174
Assertion Sequence Stage III: Confrontation	122	Key Factor Three: Competency	175
Step 1: Explanation	122	Key Factor Four: Self-Accountability	176
Step 2: Solution Generation	122	Personalize Your Scope	176
Step 3: Consequences	123	Standards of Practice	177
Step 4: Reflection	123	Setting Expectations	179
Step 5: Refocus	123	Procedures	179
Step 6: Recap	124	Draping	179
Assertion Sequence Stage IV: Termination	125	Communication	179
Conclusion	126	Attitudes	180
6. Sex, Touch, and Intimacy	127	Interaction	180
A Psychosocial Overview	128	Illness	180
Psychosexual Effects on the Individual	129	Hygiene and Sanitation	181
The Distinction Between Sex, Touch, and Intimacy	129	Etiquette	181
Touch	130	Time Management	181
Exploring Touch and Culture	130	Start and End on Time	181
Knowing Where Touch Begins	130	Cancellations	182
The Dynamics of Touch	131	Confidentiality	182
Gender and Touch	133	Maintaining Confidentiality	183
Honoring the Power of Touch	134	Limits of Ethical Confidentiality	184
Addressing Touch with Clients	135	Actions That Minimize Confidentiality Problems	184
Intimacy	136	Documentation	185
Establishing Appropriate Intimacy	136	Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act	185
Sex	137	HIPAA Compliance	186
The Sexual Response Cycle	138	Informed Consent	186
Sexuality	139	The Well-Informed Client	188
Examining Cultural Values	141	Working with Minors	189
The Impact of Family Patterns in a Therapeutic Setting	142	Special Considerations	189
Sex and Touch Therapy	143	The Child's Stage of Development	190
Sexual Feelings During Treatment Sessions	144	The Therapeutic Constellation	190
Sexual Attraction to Clients	145	Therapeutic Goals	190
Erections in the Treatment Setting	147	Infants and Children	190
Arousal in Women	147	Teenagers	191
When To Address Erections and Arousal with Clients	148	Choosing When Not to Work	192
Predatory Sexual Behavior by the Client	149	A Full Practice	192
The Intervention Model	149	Inability to Help	192
Sexual Misconduct and Sexual Harassment	152	Countertransference	192
Sexual Misconduct	152	Referring to Other Practitioners	193
Examining the Roots of Sexual Misconduct	153	Dismissing a Client	194
The Sexual Misconduct Continuum	155	Discomfort	195
Analyzing Risk Factors	155	Transference and Countertransference	195
Sexual Harassment	158	Lack of Results	195
Breaking the Silence	160	Completion	196
Desexualizing the Touch Experience	160	Client Policy Statements	196
Preparation, Language, and Behavior	161	Type of Service	197
Office Space	162	Training and Experience	197
Treatment Interactions	162	Appointments	197
Practice Management	163	Finances	198
Marketing Materials	164	Expectations	198
Conclusion	164	Personal Relationships	198
7. Practice Management	165	Confidentiality	198
Professionalism	166	Recourse	199
Intentional Practice	167	Conclusion	199
The At-Risk Practitioner	167	8. The Team Approach	201
Scope of Practice	168	Office Ethics	202
Key Factor One: The Law	168	Codes of Conduct	202
Procedures, Techniques, and Other Regulations	170	Conflict of Interest	203
Assessment and Diagnosis	170	Compliance	203
Educating vs Prescribing	171	Electronic Resources	203
Technique Restrictions	172	Insider Trading	203
Sexual Enterprise	172	Intellectual Property	204
Unregulated Professions	172	Professional Misconduct	204
Getting Involved	174	Vendor Relationships	204

Policy and Procedure Manuals	204	Make It Convenient	243
Client Custody	205	Extend Your Treatment Benefits	243
Working for Others	207	The Ethical Concerns of Retailing	244
Ethical Considerations for Employers	207	Nutritional Supplements	245
Screening Potential Employees	207	Referrals	247
Fairness and Diversity	208	Acknowledging Referrals	247
Employee Safety	208	Marketing Materials	248
Client Safety	208	Exaggerated Claims	248
Security	208	Guarantees	248
Integrity	208	Misleading Ploys	249
Ethical Considerations for Employees	209	Questionable Names and Titles	249
Commitment	209	Inappropriate Images	249
Loyalty	209	Follow Business Regulations	250
Cooperation	209	Misrepresenting Credentials	250
Obligation	209	Social Media Ethics	251
Care Coordination and Case Management	210	Social Media Policies	251
The Five-Step Process	210	Why a Social Media Policy is Important	252
Key Components for Effective Case Management	211	Employees	253
Ethical Care Coordination in Specific Environments	211	Ethically Sharing Content	254
Single-Modality Clinics	211	Sharing Photos	254
Multi-Discipline Practices	212	Sharing Article Links, Research Data,
Hospitals and Other Inpatient Treatment Centers	214	and Other Information	255
Handling Referrals from Outside Providers	215	What Happens In Vegas ...	255
Group Practices	216	Legal Issues	256
Common Ethical Issues	216	Comply with Local, State, and Federal Laws	256
Legal Considerations	216	Insurance Coverage	257
Financial Considerations	217	Slander and Libel	257
Marketing Considerations	217	Copyrighted Materials	258
Multi-Disciplinary Group Practices	217	Fair Use Factors	258
Ethical Guidelines for Multi-Disciplinary Practices	218	Photocopy Request Information	259
Specialty Centers	218	Contracts	259
Ethical Guidelines for Specialty Centers	218	Dispute Resolution	260
Spas	219	Civil Lawsuits	261
Franchises	219	Malpractice Actions	261
The Work Environment	220	Employers' Liability	263
Ethical Guidelines for Spa Management	221	State Licensing Boards and Professional Organizations	264
Ethical Guidelines for Spa Employees	221	Who Pays?	264
Hospitals and Hospices	222	Employees and Independent Contractors	265
The Hospital Setting	222	Insurance Reimbursement Issues	268
The Hospice Setting	223	Responsibility for Payment	268
Ethical Considerations in Hospitals and Hospices	223	Preferred Provider Status	269
Ethical Guidelines in Hospital and Hospice Settings	225	Fee Schedules	269
Medical Clinics	226	Timely Documentation	269
Integrated Complementary Care in Medical Clinics	226	Communication with Referring PCP	269
Adjunct Complementary Care in Medical Clinics	227	Permission to Consult with the Health Care Team	270
Ethical Considerations in Medical Clinics	227	Conclusion	270
Conclusion	228
9. Business Ethics	229	10. Support Systems	271
Attitudes About Money	230	Helpers in a Helping Profession	272
Fee Structures	232	Supervision	273
Sliding Fee Scales	234	How Supervision Helps Build Your Ethical Practice	274
Prepaid Package Plans	235	The Role of Clinical Supervision	274
Credit	235	Essential Elements of Helpful Supervision	276
Gratuities	236	Boundary-Setting Support	277
Barter	237	Threatening or Dangerous Clients	277
Direct Barter	237	Requests for Special Concessions	278
Barter Exchanges	239	Needy Clients	279
Financial Considerations	239	Personal or Sexual Advances	280
Gift Certificates	240	How to Find a Supervisor	282
Expiration Dates	240	Interview Potential Supervisors	282
The Downside of Gift Certificates	241	Unhelpful Supervision	283
Taxes	241	Peer Support Groups	283
Product Sales	242	How to Start and Run a Peer Support Group	284
Increase Income and Bookings	243	How to Get Participants	284

Mentoring	286	Empower the Client	316
Benefits for Mentors and Mentees	286	Create Emotional Safety	317
Types of Mentoring	286	The Hands-On Treatment	318
Skills, Roles, and Responsibilities	287	Structure	318
Setting Parameters	287	Pace and Predictability of Touch	318
Finding a Mentor	287	Voice Quality	318
Mastermind Groups	288	Language	319
How They Work	288	Being Present	319
Coaching	289	Continuous Communications	319
Internships, Externships, and Apprenticeships	289	Closure	319
Online Discussion Forums	290	Feelings	321
Conclusion	290	Conclusion	321
11. Trauma and Touch Therapy	291	Appendix A Forms	323
Understanding Trauma and Abuse	292	Boundary Clarification Activity Answer Key	324
The Potential for Harm from Uninformed Treatment	292	Client Bill of Rights	325
The Core of Trauma and Abuse	294	Sample Massage Therapy Practice Policies	328
Types of Sexual Abuse	294	Sample Acupuncture Office Policies	330
The Prevalence of Sexual Abuse	294	Sample Massage Therapy Informed Consent	331
Types of Physical Abuse	295	Sample School Clinic Informed Consent	332
Types of Emotional Abuse	295	Feelings List	333
Cult Mind Control Abuse	296	Sexual Assault Prevention Checklist	334
The Three Stages of Recovery	296	Appendix B Codes of Ethics	335
1. Safety	296	Alexander Technique International (ATI)	336
2. Remembrance and Mourning	296	American Chiropractic Association (ACA)	338
3. Reconnection	297	American Massage Therapy Association (AMTA)	339
Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder	297	American Naturopathic Medical Association (ANMA)	340
Symptoms	297	American Nursing Association (ANA)	340
Complex Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder	298	American Organization
Body Memories and Flashbacks	298	for Bodywork Therapies of Asia® (AOBTA)	341
Recognize Flashbacks	300	American Physical Therapy Association (APTA)	342
Precautions	300	American Reflexology Certification Board® (ARCB)	342
Process Why the Flashback Occurred	302	Associated Bodywork & Massage Professionals (ABMP)	343
Plan for Client Safety	302	Canadian Massage Therapy Alliance (CMTA)	345
Adjust Your Schedule	302	College of Massage Therapists of Ontario (CMTO)	348
Follow Up	302	Complementary Therapists Association (CTHA)	350
Benefits of Touch Therapy for Survivors	303	Massage Association of Australia Ltd (MAA)	352
Establishing a Place of Safety	303	The National Certification Board
Rebuilding Boundaries	304	for Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork (NCBTMB)	353
Experiencing the Pleasure of Non-Sexual Touch	304	National Certification Commission
Reintegrating Body Memories	305	for Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine (NCCAOM)	354
Enhancing Psychotherapy Collaboration	305	Ontario College of Reflexology (OCR)	355
Prerequisites for Working with Survivors	306	Yoga Alliance™ (YA)	356
Practitioner Prerequisites	306	Glossary	357
Psychological Understanding	306	Endnotes	363
Issues and Motivations	308	Index	371
Ethical Dimensions	308	Continuing Education Series	377
Secondary Traumatization	308	Other Offerings	379
Supervision and Support	309
Client Prerequisites	309
Engaged in Psychotherapy	310
Appropriate Stage of Recovery	310
Consent to Communicate	310
Special Boundary Issues	310
Protocol for Working with Self-Disclosed Survivors	311
Initial Contact: The Phone Interview	312
The Physical Environment	312
First Session Preliminaries	313
The Pre-Treatment Mutual Interview	313
Review Policies	313
Take the Client History	314
Follow-Up Questions	315
Transition to Touch Therapy	316
Set Goals Together	316

